

Alexandra Sortino

ASSOCIATE ATTORNEY

Alexandra Sortino is an associate attorney at Monteleone & McCrory. Mrs. Sortino received her Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of California, Berkeley in 2013. She went on to complete her Juris Doctorate degree at Whittier Law School in 2018, earning CALI Awards for her performance in: Business Associations; Freedoms and Rights in Israel; and International and Comparative Criminal Law. In 2019, she attended the University of Southern California, Gould School of Law, where she received her LL.M., with certificates in both Business Law and Alternative Dispute Resolution.

After passing the California State Bar Exam in 2020, Mrs. Sortino began practicing business law, providing representation to high net-worth individuals, investment companies, and car dealerships. Since joining Monteleone & McCrory in 2023, Mrs. Sortino's primary focus is in public and private construction law. Mrs. Sortino also has experience with transactional work and compliance, which adds great value to her understanding of matters from multiple perspectives relating to representation, analysis, communications with clients, problem-solving, and strategy.

When she's not practicing law, Mrs. Sortino enjoys cooking and baking with her husband, creating new latte recipes, antiquing, photography, and expanding her wardrobe.
